Our Show Came Off as Scheduled

If anyone around our town ever grumbles again about the toil and trouble and expense connected with the Third District Stock Show it will be because they didn't read this piece that I now write.

Nevada County Fair was held at Prescott the week beginning September 12 — and was rained out.

The Third District Stock Show next week and had marvelous weather and record crowds.

And then, after a lapse of only a week, the Arkansas Livestock Show got under way at Little Rock, and the Four States Fair at Texarkana — and both of them have been rained out practically all week.

It's harder to get a town the size of Texarkana steamed up over a Fair than it is to promote one in a town like Prescott or Hope; but Texarkana went "all out" for its show just the same — and I was over there yesterday, and the place was full of gloom. The gloom must be four times as bad in Little Rock because of the heavier loss in the capital city — but all losses are relative, and the weather certainly dealt a crippling blow to the livestock show spirit in southwest Arkansas and northeast Texas this incredible week.

A man can do just so much. A city can go only so far. The rest of it depends on the co-operation of the weather — and if you can't safely schedule a week's outdoor show in late September or early October when can you schedule it?

Hope, I say, got a tremendous break in this year's Third District Stock Show and it's something to remember, and to give us fresh courage and enthusiasm when another year's show rolls around.

Russia Sets Up Government in Germany

Berlin, Oct. 7 — (AP) — The East German republic—Russia's newest satellite—was proclaimed today under the leadership of German communists.

The German Peoples' council, heretofore a pro-Soviet public "German Democratic republic."

The Germans now have two separate regimes—the one for the eastern part of the country established today and the recently formed west German government which has authority in the American, British and French occupation zones.

A president, premier and full cabinet for the East German republic will be named next week. The new Red regime was built up without the formality of elections in a week of intensive Soviet-fostered propaganda.

Proceeding the proclamation of the new government the peoples' council unanimously adopted a manifesto to all Germans which the communists central committee had drawn up. The manifesto calls for a fight against the West German republic by a "national front" including elements with a Nazi past who promised to be Democrats in the future.

Both the East and West governments hope ultimately to be the government for all Germany.

Described by the communists as a "great hour of German history" the formation of the peoples' council of the East republic followed seven approving speeches by communist sympathizers in the council. No one spoke against the resolution.

The council agreed to meet for the first time as a people's chamber later today.

Wilhelm Pieck, communist old statesman, asked the Soviet Union "to return full sovereignty" to the Germans. Informed Berliners said earlier that the Russians already have promised the infant state full membership in the communist bloc which includes all the communist regimes of Eastern Europe except Yugoslavia.

Cool Air Mass Stalled in Northern Rockies

Chicago, Oct. 7 — (AP) — A mass of cool air stalled over the Northern Plains, the Northern Rockies, and the Northwestern states today. The rest of the country had pleasant autumn weather.

Temperatures dropped below freezing in some parts of the cool belt as far south as northern Nevada. Light snow fell in the mountain regions of Montana. The coolest spot early today was Mullen Pass, Mont., with a reading of 25.

The federal weather bureau said the cool air from Alaska was not expected to move eastward for at least two days.

Cloudy skies were general over most of the nation. There was rain in parts of Michigan, the Carolinas and the Pacific northwest. There also was a trace of precipitation from Cleveland eastward into New York state. Skies were clear in the lower Mississippi valley and Southwestern states.

Concentration on B-36 Gamble Congress Told

Washington, Oct. 7 — (AP) — Admiral Arthur W. Radford told congress today that concentrating American military strength in the air forces big B-36 bomber is "a big gamble with national security."

The theory of "a cheap and easy victory" through strategic bombing is unfounded, Radford declared.

Radford was before an open session of the house armed services committee. The committee gave naval officers an opportunity for the first time to air at the capitol their differences with other armed services over high military policy.

Radford's statement was first given the house group at a closed session yesterday. Over the protest of Secretary of the navy Matthews, the committee decided he should make it again publicly.

Matthews took the position that Continued on Page Two

Tornado Skips East Side of Houston

Houston, Oct. 7 — (AP) — A brief tornado skipped through the east side of Houston today. First reported was a few houses were damaged.

An automobile on telephone road was picked up and hurled 15 feet. Witnesses said the twister whirled across the area in a black cone.

Houston, whose 500,000 population make it Texas' largest city, was hit by a hurricane early Tuesday but suffered little damage.

The automobile, owned by Mrs. Paul James, a laundry employee, was turned for an end-over-end flip and deposited upright on a street curb about 15 feet from where it was parked.

Clifford W. Water, a cafe owner, said he saw the twister moving in from the south.

"I stood at the door of the cafe and saw it lift the car in the air, flip it over one time and drop it," he said. "At the same time the plate glass in front of my cafe crashed in."

He said the twister lasted only a few seconds.

Seems There Are Plenty of Girls Who Don't Want to Be 'Government-Paid Maids'

By HAL BOYLE
New York, Oct. 7 — (AP) — Do American housewives want government handouts?

Well—yes and no. The girls are as divided on this question as on any other.

A few days ago I wrote a piece pointing out that legislatures have lately overlooked the most important figure in our civilization—the housewife.

They fret about the problems of the businessman, set limits to the shirt of the laboring man, and vote cash on the barrel head to protect the farmer against rainy days. But for the woman with the mop, the lady of the house, they have voted no 40-hour week, no cash subsidies, no benefit payments, no bonuses for raising the nation's children.

Well, should congress and President Truman set up a new cabinet post—secretary of the home? Should housewives get pensions?

Scores of ladies across the land dropped their dust cloths, sat down and wrote me how they felt. And their answer was to whether the government owned them anything boiled down to this:

"Yes, of course."
"No, naturally."
"One mother wrote objecting 'to the prevailing sense of values which excludes from economic consideration the work of the home woman.' Her idea was that mothers mold the character of future citizens, and should be paid in some way by the state for this important function."

Mrs. Sue Persons of Mandan, N. D., thought it might be simpler to work just did more to solve the problems of government and international politics—even against male objections they are "getting subject up anyway?"

Governors Still Seeking Solution for Rail Strike

St. Louis, Oct. 7 — (AP) — A conference of state officials seeking to end the Missouri Pacific strike broke up at 1:15 a. m. CST today, with no agreement reached.

The meeting was to be resumed at 10 a. m. Both sides in the railroad tieup were subject to call, although no definite plan of action had been formulated when the three conferees retired.

They went into session at 10:30 a. m. yesterday and took only brief time-outs to eat.

Nature of the discussions was not known since the meeting was held behind closed doors.

Asked what progress had been made, the conferees said: "I don't really know. One minute it would look like we were getting some place and the next minute it would blow up."

The four striking unions were represented by their presidents and vice presidents. They presented their cases separately and later were called into the meeting together.

Gov. Forrest Smith of Missouri and Gov. Sid McMath of Arkansas had said before the conference that they had plans to settle the four-week-old strike.

Their proposals apparently were not received with any degree of enthusiasm.

Other states represented were Kansas, Colorado, Illinois, Nebraska, Louisiana and Oklahoma.

Ashville, N. C., Oct. 7 — (AP) — Ranger Tom Huffman reported today that all nine men aboard an air force C-47 transport plane crashed in the mountains near here were dead.

The wreckage of the plane was found six miles from the Blue Ridge parkway, three-quarters of a mile down on the east side of Mount Mitchell, highest mountain east of the Mississippi.

Huffman said Game Warden W. C. Hall reported to him that he had seen the wreckage and that all nine men and one dog and the plane burned. He said that Hall told him one of the victims apparently had crawled from the wreckage and was burned.

The plane was found as ground and air forces began their second day of searching.

The foresters said the plane crashed in a heavily timbered area near a rough road — once the bed of a lumber railroad.

The wreckage of the twin ship about 7:30 a. m., an hour after assuming the hunt. Half an hour was required for them to get to the wreck.

While fog shrouded the big, balsam-covered mountain last night, Huffman said he and other rangers studied reports of persons who said they had heard an explosion about 11:30 a. m., Wednesday. With their knowledge of the terrain they were able to push direction toward the crash scene.

Rangers reported their discovery to the transmitter station of FM radio station WMIT near the mountain summit. This station relayed details to air force bases.

Capt. R. M. Maxwell of a ground search crew from Westover field, Mass., left immediately for the wreckage.

Johnny Mize Bats Yanks to 4-3 Win

The New York Yankees went a game ahead in World Series play today with a 4-3 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers behind the hurling of Joe Page and the pinch hitting of Johnny Mize.

With the bases loaded and two away and the game tied 1 all in the 9th Mize banged out a long single to drive in two runs. Coleman came up, rapped out another single to put the Yanks ahead 4-1.

In the Dodger half with one away, Odo stepped on over the fence for the Bums' second score. Reece tied up the ball game banging out the first home run. Campanello banged out another homer with two away making the score 4-3. Edwards fanned and that ended the game.

State Officials Advise City Lacks Interest

An $80,000 armory which the military department of Arkansas announced July 15, 1949 would be constructed in Hope went up in smoke today according to a letter received by Captain Dorsey Fuller, head of the local guard unit, from Brig. Gen. H. L. McAllister, assistant adjutant general.

There is a section of Gen. McAllister's letter which tells everything:

"I discussed with General Ricks (Earl T. Ricks of Hot Springs, adjutant general, state of Arkansas) the matter of your armory. You have in your unit only one officer and only 38 per cent of enlisted men you are entitled to under your table of organization. He does not want to construct an armory until the community shows more interest in the organization."

All of which is nothing new to Hope as this city has been trying to get an armory for the past twenty years. However, this time it progressed further than ever before. A site was picked and plans drawn up and the money set aside. Since the war Hope has been on the first priority list but at least two other Arkansas towns have gotten armories.

Gen. McAllister suggested to Captain Fuller that a recruiting campaign be carried out here to bring Company A to half or full strength. Whether half or full complement would be up to the city. Hope means a good yearly payroll."

The present guard payroll runs about $12,000 a year and a full complement would boost it to $35,000 plus two full-time employees at $3,500.

New Orleans, Oct. 7 — (UP) — A Canadian seaman recuperating in Charity hospital here, going to be one of the few people in the world who has been stabbed completely through the heart and lived to tell about it, doctors said today.

Two weeks ago 42-year-old Carl Carmel got into an argument with another man and was going through the heart with a heavy-bladed butcher knife.

The knife blade went all the way through the heart, going in one side and coming out the other, doctors discovered when they operated.

A surgeon who declined the use of his name said it was probably the speed of the operation that saved Carmel's life.

The operating surgeon cut into the seaman's chest, laid back the heart, and found a stab wound and sewed up the wound while holding the heart in one hand.

In order to keep the heart beating, the surgeon massaged it with one hand, in union with the other's pulsation, while sewing with the other. It took eight stitches to close the wounds.

Within a week Carmel was up and walking about the hospital. Today doctors said he will be released soon. They advised him only against doing heavy work for a year. After that, they said, he can forget he ever had a knife in his heart.

Carmel said he lived in Montreal before coming to New Orleans.

Week's Death Toll in State Mounts to 14
By The Associated Press
At least 14 persons have died violently in Arkansas so far this week.

A traffic accident and a head-on collision Thursday claimed two lives.

Two-year-old Billy Jane Station was injured fatally when run over by a loaded gravel truck at her home near Booneville. Her father, Billy Station was driving the vehicle. He said the youngster darted behind the truck as he was backing out of their front yard.

E. E. Tally, 64, of Chance, Mo., was run to death when Frisco freight train rammed into another near the Marahan bridge across the Mississippi river at West Memphis.

The charities bureau developed its case for Station on a four-months daily record of her histories and said most of the babies brought here were from the Miami area.

The Miami Herald said in a copyrighted story last night that the city was the center of a "black market in babies, shocking in size and scope."

Student Gets Treated Rough by Czechs

Prague, Czechoslovakia, Oct. 7 (UP)—An American student said today he was picked up by security police in Slovakia, taken on a wild ride during which his car rolled over and hurt his shoulder, and held in a solitary cell for five days.

The student was Savel Klachko, 26, of Palo Alto, Calif. He came here on invitation of the Czech government to attend Charles university.

Klachko checked in today at the U. S. embassy and told his story in embassy officials and later to newspapermen.

He said the food he had while he was held incommunicado, without explanation and with no formal charge against him, was "slop."

He lost about 10 pounds, he said. The young American, who is of Russian descent and speaks fluent Russian, said he was picked up Sept. 28 in the village of Michalovce, in the eastern tip of Slovakia, 40 miles from the Soviet frontier.

While he was in custody, he said, the police tore an American flag off his lapel, demanded that he admit he was a U. S. spy, and lodged him incommunicado in a cell, seven by 13 feet.

Here on student scholarship as a guest of Czechoslovakia, he said, he had a certificate attesting to that status, but the police who arrested him apparently did not think it was genuine.

At one point, he said, a policeman asked him:

"Why don't you admit you are a spy and save us the trouble?"

But he said the police refused to specify any charge against him. All his possessions—wrist watch, ring and money—were taken, he said, and "they even tore off an American flag I was wearing in my lapel."

Klachko said he went to Slovakia after the Czech government tourist agency helped him plan a 10-day trip through the region before his classes started at Charles university.

Nails were scarce in the early American colonies.

Devaluation of Franc More Important to West Than Fall of French Premier

By DEWITT MacKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The fall of the French government under Premier Queuille is not in itself a matter of extreme gravity. It's what must be expected frequently in a country which has such multiplicity of political parties that maintenance of a government majority of parliament is difficult.

However, the present crisis reflects far more than domestic politics. It grew out of devaluation of the franc and so is part of the Western European economic dislocation which also is so strongly in evidence in Great Britain.

That dislocation is causing increasingly deep anxiety in the chancelleries of the democracies, for it renders peace more vulnerable.

It scarcely can be by mere chance that this economic stress sees an intensification of the bitterness in the quarrel between Moscow and the fiery Balkan state of Yugoslavia. Russia is cracking down harder on the rebellious Marshal Tito as Western Europe discloses weaknesses.

It is well for us to recognize that the situation revolving about Yugoslavia is serious.

The consensus of observers is that the French government crisis has its roots in the recent devaluation of the British pound sterling, which forced a like devaluation tion upon France and other Western European countries. The conservative London Daily Mail says Queuille's resignation was due largely to England's devaluation, about which France wasn't consulted. The newspapers adds that the premier has been gravely embarrassed by the consequent rise in prices.

In any event, an increase in prices, and fear of inflation brought quick demands from French labor for increases in wages to meet a higher cost of living. This was reflected in the cabinet which became divided over the issue.

The government (that is, the cabinet) has been the central core in parliament between the followers of General De Gaulle on the extreme right and the communists on the extreme left. Queuille, who is a Radical Socialist (conservative), was strongly opposed to general wage increases which he believed would create further inflation. On this he stood pat.

In this the premier was supported by the rightist members of his cabinet but opposed by the leftists. Naturally that created an impossible situation and he tendered his resignation, which was accepted.

That left the country without a government, pending the formation of another cabinet.

Queuille had been the most successful of any post-war premier in holding together a cabinet. He had

Engineer Dies, Crew Leaps to Safety in Wreck

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 7 (AP)—Frantic crewmen leaped for their lives last night as two Frisco freight trains tangled in twisted wreckage. The engineer of one train was crushed to death.

The crash occurred about a mile from the Mississippi river bridge when a 112-car westbound freight rammed into another freight waiting to be switched onto a sidetrack.

The impact crumpled both engines and jack-knifed heavily loaded cars like straws, although trainmen said the oncoming freight was sliding along a bare ten miles an hour.

Engineer E. E. Talley, 64, of Chaffee, Mo., was crushed to death. His brakeman, Ralph Lape, also of Chaffee, was seriously hurt when he leaped from the car and rolled down a 30-foot incline.

Two others were injured, but were not believed seriously hurt. They are H. T. Wilburn of Haiti, Mo., and W. G. Hall of Pensacola, Fla., both firemen. All three men were taken to a Memphis hospital.

The waiting train was a 64-car freight, hauled by a three-unit diesel. The brakeman, T. A. Webster of Thayer, Mo., said all of its been in office for close to thirteen months—a remarkable achievement under the circumstances.

As previously indicated, this is a bad moment for political or economic crises in Western Europe. Strength is needed to maintain the balance and prevent any reckless adventures in the Balkans.

national security might be damaged if Radford's views were made public. But the committee voted him down, 9 to 6.

The committee wants to find out why some navy men—like the suspended Capt. John G. Crommelin—think morale and fighting efficiency of the sea service are being worn away by present defense policies.

Some of these officers feel that the air force and the intercontinental bomber are being favored over the navy and its carrier planes in defense plans.

At the outset, Radford told the committee that decisions on defense planning may determine whether or not there is a war. He said:

"If the armed services of this nation are unsoundly organized and improperly equipped they will not be fully effective as a deterrent to aggression. They may even invite it."

Whatever the decisions, "some criticism is inevitable," Radford went on, adding that "agreement solely for agreement's sake on vital national issues is dangerous."

Radford then set forth his conclusions. These, briefly, included:

1. The B-36 would be "useless defensively and inadequate offensively" in an atomic war.

2. The atomic blitz theory of war, symbolized by the B-36, can not be an effective deterrent to war nor can it win a war by the mere threat of its existence.

3. Air force emphasis "on the heavy bomber has caused air force development of tactical and fighter air power to suffer. A lack of adequate fighters 'may have serious consequences for future security of our bases and our homeland.'"

4. The air force adopted "unusual procedures" that "were not justified" to push the B-36 program.

Radford charged these procedures "undermined all unification, and blocked mutual trust, understanding and unified planning."

Sgt. Short Again Outstanding Airforce Recruiter

Sergeant First Class Warren G. Short, Army and Air Force Recruiter assigned to the station in Hope, Ark., has been named the "Outstanding Recruiter" for the month of September. This is the second consecutive month that Sgt. Short has been selected for this honor.

His station in Hope had the highest percentage of assignments—123 per cent. This is considered remarkable for any station considering the high standards presently in effect for Army and Air Force enlistments.

According to Lt. Ralph S. Fawcett, Commanding Officer of the Texarkana Main Station, there is no secret as to how the Hope station has placed up among the leaders since it was re-opened two months ago.

"Sergeant Short has established himself firmly in the minds of the citizens of the community in which he works. His willingness to be of any possible assistance in civic affairs, and local leaders has won the friendship of the community."

This reflects credit upon the Army and Air Force recruiting service and aids greatly in the recruitment of a volunteer army and air force," the Lt. said.

"With men like Sergeant Short assigned to the recruiting service, and the assistance of communities like Hope, we can only go forward. Our sincere gratitude is extended to the citizens and officers for their assistance in this difficult task," Lt. Fawcett concluded.

Dignitaries to Attend Funeral of Hamilton

St. Louis, Oct. 7 (AP)—Many high-ranking government officials are expected to attend the funeral here Monday of Robert E. Hannegan, former postmaster general.

Hannegan, 46, died at his home here yesterday, the victim of a heart attack.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. CST Monday at St. Louis cathedral, with burial in Calvary cemetery. Instead of sending flowers, friends wishing to honor Hannegan's memory are asked to make an offering to the Glenmon Memorial hospital fund here.

Hannegan, also former president of the St. Louis Cardinals baseball club and former chairman of the Democratic national committee, was in St. Louis on the road to the White House.

It was Hannegan who in 1944 masterminded the selection of Truman, then a U. S. senator, as the vice presidential nominee of the Democratic party.

President Roosevelt was said to have favored Henry A. Wallace before Hannegan stepped in on the eve of the Democratic convention at Chicago.

Bill Continuing Foreign Air Program Signed

Washington, Oct. 6 —(AP)—President Truman today signed a bill providing $5,809,900,000 to carry on the foreign air program until next June 30.

Most of the money—$3,778,380,000—goes for the Marshall plan. The remainder includes funds for aid to Greece, and Turkey and for costs of occupying Germany, Austria, Japan and the Ryukyus.

The measure also sets up funds—previously authorized but never legally provided—for operating the economic cooperation administration for the final three months of the fiscal year 1949.

The legislation was passed by congress Sept. 20 after almost nine months of hearings, debate, and attempts to cut the ECA allotment.

It carries about 10 per cent less money than ECA Administrator Paul G. Hoffman had asked for the year.

Crump Won't Attend Opening of Bridge

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 6 —(UP)—E. H. Crump, chairman of the Memphis and Arkansas Bridge commission, said today he wouldn't be here for any formal opening of the bridge Jan. 1. He's going to the Rose bowl game in California.

The new bridge is scheduled for completion about the first of the year and plans are tentatively being made for a big celebration. But Crump's against such a move.

"Only the accomplishment of worthwhile deeds give strength to life, and actions speak louder than words," he said. "It seems to me we might pass up a celebration. Let us just turn over this wonderful bridge to the public and have our reward in the universal and unanimous acclaim of its utility."

Tulsa, Nashville All Even in Dixie Series

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 7 —(AP)—The Tulsa Oilers and the Nashville Vols fight it out tonight for the Dixie Series championship.

Chalky Jim Avera, who's already chalked up two victories, pitches for Tulsa of the Texas league. He'll face big Ben Wade, the losing pitcher in both of Aver's wins.

Five Tulsa pitchers tried to silence the big bats as Nashville slugged its way back into the series with a 10-5 victory in the sixth game of the series last night.

Carl (Swish) Sawatski, Southern association home-run champ, settled the game with a four-run homer in the fifth inning.

The Vols went on to score three more runs as 11 men batted in the big Nashville inning.

Tulsa came back to score two more runs in the seventh, but Frank Marino's pitching was too much for the Oilers. He gave up only eight hits as he went the route.

Someone to Love

By IRENE LONNEN ERNHART Copyright, 1949, NEA SERVICE, INC.

The Story: Tod Duncan married Jenny after his fiancée jilted him. Both have tried to make a success of this marriage "on the rebound," but Tod's family, which is inoperative to Jenny, and financial difficulties contrive to make life one complication after another. Then Jenny finds that she is to become a mother. Tod thoughtlessly leaves her one night to visit his own mother, and Jenny's life is hard. Fortunately the old chum of Tod's, Rick Morris drops in.

Jenny heard Rick's unbridled voice with a hint of laughter in it. "I'm not the proud father, really. I find it well I didn't have time to find out just where he had gone, but —"

She couldn't seem to control her thoughts. They swam around crazily, just as she herself was swimming now through pale green mist. Tod hadn't really wanted this baby. He hadn't even wanted the talk about it. And he couldn't be bothered with sitting around with her every evening until it came. Ma was lonely.

Ma's face was there all at once, very real, dancing before her, wearing an expression of mockery. "You schemed and flinched to get him to marry you, when you knew all the time he was still in love with Liz!"

"But," she cried out, "I didn't scheme and fling. I only loved him."

Rick's voice interrupted gently. "Jenny!" Jenny opened her eyes, and through the mist his face emerged. The room came into focus, pale green walls, green curtains, and on the metal bureau a huge bouquet.

"Have I been talking crazy Rick?" she asked weakly. She twisted her fingers around his warm hand.

Rick flushed and looked embarrassed. "You're supposed to rest, Jenny," he said gently.

A nurse bustled in. "So she's finally come out of it. Well, dearie, has your husband told you about those two bouncing boys?"

"I'm not the father," Rick's face reddened again.

"Oh, yes," The nurse bustled around. "They told me that, but I found out."

"Tod will be here any minute," Rick explained. "I phoned the office at the trailer camp, and they'll catch him when he comes in."

Jenny found her voice. "Two boys?"

"Twins, darling."

"Oh, no," She couldn't quite comprehend it.

Tod came at last. He leaned over her, and she looked up at him, her eyes blurred and sleepy. Then she smiled faintly and said, "It was a dirty trick of me — twins — can you imagine?"

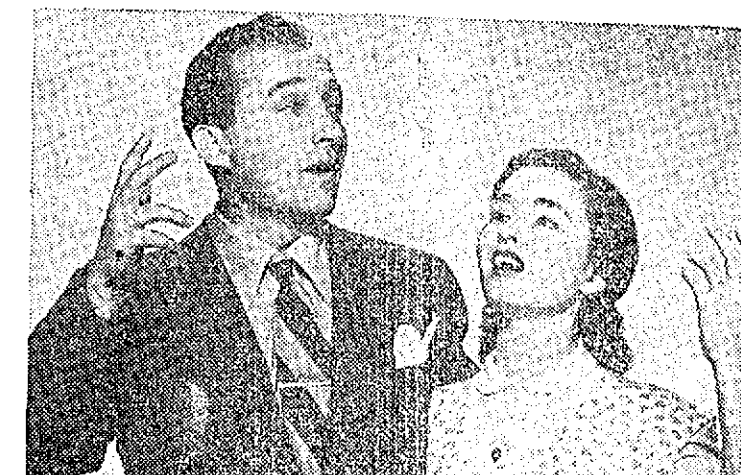

"It's wonderful, Jenny. Wonderful to think it's all over." He hated himself for having game into it. He left her. He tried in every way possible to make up for it. Magazines, books, candy, flowers — he fairly outdid himself. He spoke with hearty enthusiasm of his two

DOROTHY DIX Romantic Love

Dear Mrs. Dix: Is the kind of love when one can't eat, sleep and so when one can't eat, sleep and so marriage a success? In most marriages don't you think that love is stronger on one side than the other? Can a marriage be successful if the girl's love is stronger than that of the young man? He loves her very much, but cannot say he loves her desperately. Would it be taking a chance for her to marry him?

A READER

Answer: If no one got married except those whose appetites and ability to sleep were affected by the tender passion there would be a terrific slump in the matrimonial market.

It is only in novels that people in love cease to take an interest in food and sit up all night star-gazing thinking upon the beloved one and go hot and cold and have palpitation of the heart at the sound of a footstep. In real life men and women get just as hungry when they are in love as they do out of it.

A Pity

It is a pity that the poets and fictionists have set up these impossible and unrealistic standards for young people to check their love by because it makes many level-headed and common-sense young people doubt the state of their affections. They know that nothing has happened to their appetites or their ability to put in eight hours of sound sleep a night. They are perfectly aware that they could not die of a broken heart if they lost the other and so they doubt the good honest love. But would take itself out in trying to be a good husband or wife.

Of course, in every love affair, one cares more than the other, because one is capable of a deeper affection than the other. But, fortunately, love is not a bargain. It is a gift and it is literally true that in love it is more blessed to give than to receive and we get more out of love than we ever do out of being loved.

Especially is this true of women, and so it is rather fortunate that when the wife is more affectionate in love with her husband than he is with her. Because marriage is harder on a woman than it is on a man. She has to make more sacrifices than he does, and it can only be worth while to her if she cares so much for him, that just to be near him satisfies her and everything she does for him is a joy and a delight.

Dear Mrs. Dix: I know a man, an only son who lives with his widowed mother. He has a strong fear of women, a fear of being dominated by them. He has been loved by some very fine, highly educated girls, but has always broken with them because they showed the slightest tendency to boss him. He claims that a college education spoils a girl and makes her determine to rule her husband and make a doormat of him. I am afraid this young man's fear of women will keep him from marrying at all, or make him marry some very inferior girl.

Answer: Probably the young man's mother is one of the possessive kind who has tried to keep a little boy tied to her apron strings. There are plenty of women who have never let their children have an idea of control of their own and who boss the very life out of them.

But if the young man thinks he will be able to manage a fool, if he marries one, he is tragically mistaken. The average woman is more concerned than the more set she is in her opinions, the more determined she is to have her own way about every little thing. Edgewise and more tolerant and broader and more tolerant and more just and easier to live with, as well as more interesting as a companion, and, taking it by and large, the college graduate is far less liable to keep her husband than is the moon.

Dear Mrs. Dix: What qualities are necessary for a man to possess to enable him to forgive and continue to live with his wife after she has confessed that she has been untrue to him in three instances and where he traced each who are her partakers in such one hypocrisy as the same? Is it the hardest thing that any man was ever called upon to do?

Answer: Yes. And it is an added turn of the lady for him to have to meet early the man with whom he has married a man.

All to the qualities that it takes to forgive an unfaithful wife they must be I think, an almost divine gift. Not weakness, and an understanding of a nature that is perhaps constitutionally emotionally unstable.

Government Steps in Coal Strike

By The Associated Press

The government stepped in today in an attempt to settle the coal strike but no move was made to bring peace in the steel dispute.

John L. Lewis, whose 300,000 United Mine Workers have been on strike since Sept. 12, was called in a dispute over pensions and insurance, said he will attend the session called in Washington by Cyrus Ching, chief government mediator.

The operators earlier said they will be at the meeting. In the week-old strike of 500,000 United Mineworkers, no union-management sessions were scheduled. But Ching was expected to call for talks next week with union and steel industry representatives. Pensions and insurance are the main issues in the dispute.

There was one bright note of the labor front. The CIO International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union and seven stevedoring firms agreed to settle Hawaii's five-month old strike. The union's 2,000 dock workers ratified the agreement which provides for a wage hike of 14 cents an hour. The union struck for a pay boost of 32 cents.

An immediate back-to-work order was delayed pending settlement of non-stevedoring issues in ports other than Honolulu. However, early agreement was expected and docks, strike-bound since May 1, were expected to be humming at a normal rate next week.

The meeting in Washington called by Ching broke up negotiations between Lewis and operators for a new coal contract. No date was set for resumption of conferences which Lewis has kept going all summer at White Sulphur Springs and Bluefield, W. Va.

In Camden, N. J., 5,000 production workers of the RCA Corporation, division Radio Corporation of America, voted to strike by a 4 to 1 margin. John Leto, president of Local 103, CIO United Electrical Workers, said the vote did not call for an immediate strike but authorizes the negotiating committee to call a walkout if it deems one necessary. The strike vote was ordered, Leto said, in support of union demands for a $500 annual wage increase and a "better pension and insurance plan."

Number of Polio Cases Expected to Reach 41,000

New York, Oct. 7 —(AP)—The 1949 total of polio cases in this country is expected to reach 41,000 by the end of the year.

Basel O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, made the estimate yesterday. It is 1,000 above his previous estimate.

So far, he reported, there have been 33,144 cases, the highest number ever recorded for any year in this country.

The previous record epidemic was in 1916, when about 30,000 persons were stricken.

Quick Thinking, Action Saves Youth From Bear

Tampa, Fla., Oct. 7 — (UP) — Mrs. Joseph Longo said today it was "just mother's instinct" that made her jam a long fingernail into the nostril of a caged bear to make the animal drop her two-year-old son from his jaws.

Susie, a 300-pound black bear had reached between the bars, pinned the youngster to the cage with her paws and sunk her fangs in the child's buttocks.

Mrs. Longo, who had turned away momentarily, wheeled around when she heard her son scream. She rammed a sharp fingernail into the bear's nose, and the bear dropped the child and lunged for Mrs. Longo's hand but missed.

The wound caused by the bear's fangs was an inch and a half deep and required eight stitches.

City Park Superintendent Ben Sanborn explained that he tried to keep the opening covered with closely-meshed wire but that visitors kept tearing it down to feed Susie peanuts.

Now it's Hixon said the city would make sure nobody else was bitten, "even if we have to get rid of the bear."

Roe's Victory a Lifesaver for Brooklyn

By JACK HAND

Brooklyn, Oct. 7 — (AP) — Once again Preacher Roe's crafty left arm has turned night into day for Brooklyn.

Now it's up to Rex Barney, Ralph Branca, Don Newcombe and the strong, young arms of Burt Shotton's staff to subdue the New York Yankees. Roe did his bit by squaring the World Series with his 1-0 victory over Vic Raschi in yesterday's second game.

It goes six or seven, as seems likely now, the "Preach" from the little hill town of Hardy, Ark., may be in there again. But not before Monday or Tuesday.

Pitching like a madman with a mission, blood dripping from an injured finger, Roe has put the Dodgers back in the old ball game.

Even the odd makers saw the light in Roe's home run masterpiece. Instead of the easy-does-it 1 to 3 favorites of yesterday, the Yankees now are only 3 to 4.

If Barney or Branca, whoever gets the nod from Shotton, can beat him tomorrow, Brooklyn may lose another one like that. The Yankees have a new and aching respect for Mr. Roe.

There won't be half as many people present in Flatbush as the 70,000 who packed Yankee stadium yesterday, but you can bet they will make more noise. The crowds at the two pitcher's battles in the Bronx were staid and almost stuffy.

No matter what happens today, baseball people will be talking over the Roe-Raschi and Reynolds-Newcombe duels for months to come in the hot stove league.

Mixing well his sweeping curve, change of pace ball, and a fast ball, Roe handed the Yankees their first shutout of the season at Yankee stadium.

Jackie Robinson provided the lead in the second inning when he took third on a foul pop and scored on Gil Hodges' single. That was it.

Roe didn't produce the clean out, overpowering job that Newcombe turned in last night.

He was 3-2 on four batters and 3-1 on three others but he got all seven. No walks told an important story although it didn't help Newcombe Wednesday.

One out, one walk, one hit, more than one man on base at the same time. They never did get two hits in the same inning.

It was the eighth when the pre-ace really was on. Casey Stengel, searching for a pinch hitter, sent Joe Mauer up to hit for Charlie Silva. Mauer celebrated his first World Series chance in 17 years of waiting with a single.

Bob Brown, the 1,000 pinch-hitter ace of the 47 classic, was called out on strikes but Roe fumbled Phil Rizzuto's sacrifice bunt for an error. There were men on first and second when Tommy Henrich, the "old man" hero of the opener, at the plate.

Welching every pitch carefully, Roe took Henrich 3-2, and then retired Ed Delmonico on a huff.

Ohio Hank Bauer, another long ball hitter, drew three straight balls and then a strike before he forced Rizzuto on to a bounce to Spider Jorgensen. The next was off.

Joe DiMaggio, who had gone 0 for 6 in the series, beat out a slow roller for a single, starting the ninth and Roe again was threatened. But he struck out Johnny Lindell, made Bill Johnson pop out and ended the game with a double play.

And, Graziano, a surprisingly good looking kid, all things considered including his reputation, Jake LaRue, a funny-looking someone.

Her back was turned.

"Turn around to the camera, Trudy," said Bradley Kelly. "Stand beside Gene."

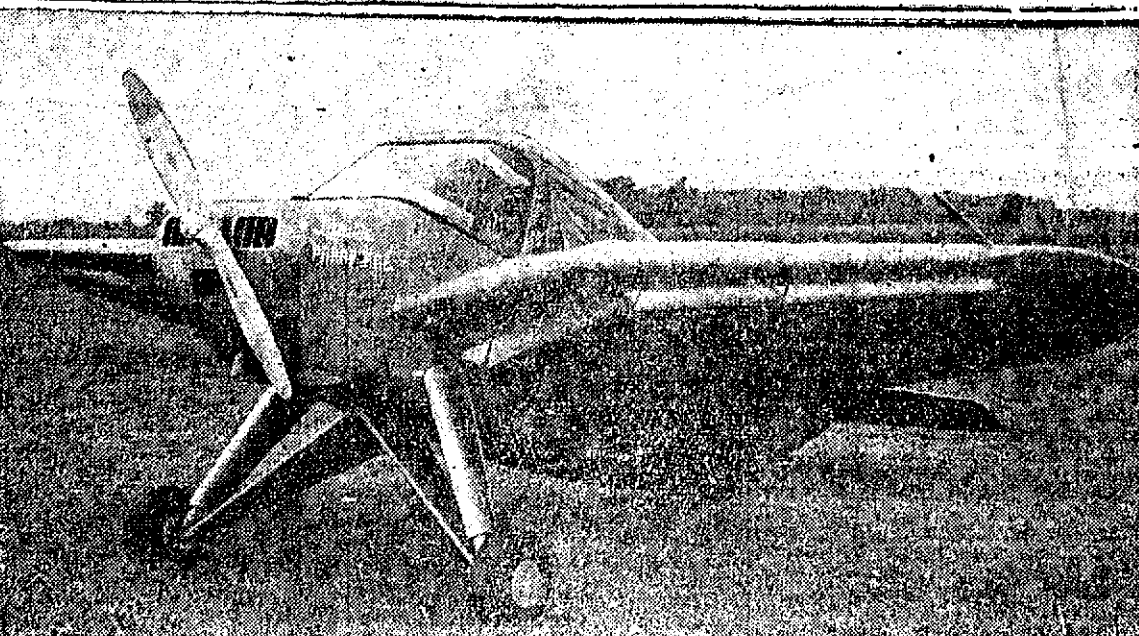

Rudy Ederle, that wonderful girl who was heron in the trout sense of the word, she not only swam the channel but did it in a wild storm. I had been with her there at Cape Gris Nez the summer of 1926, but I had never seen her before.

Twenty years a little better, that is anyone's business, and very deaf now. We clinched.

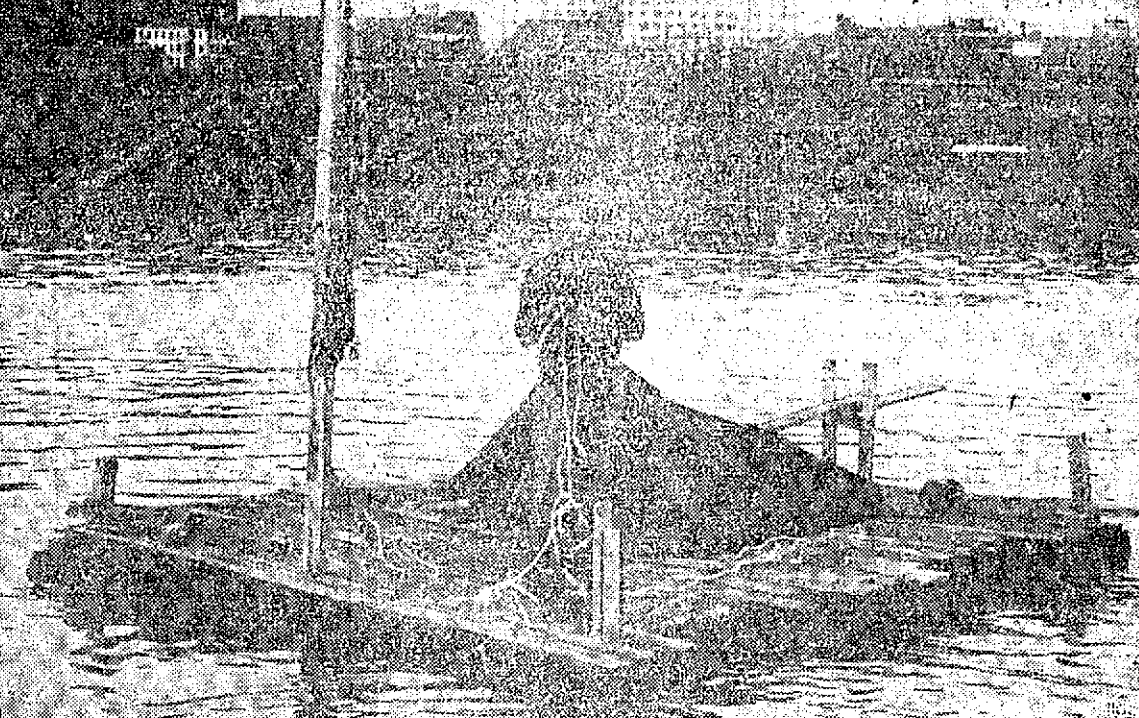

Unquestionably, the champions are special. There is a style and a look to them. They wear greatness as a habit.

Were you to see the Jack Kellys, of Philadelphia, father and son, the scullers, you could no more mistake them for ordinary men than a lute-horse for a thoroughbred.

I feel a little ashamed to carry on like this. Something just came over me. I will be myself again tomorrow.

SCOOP-WING PLANE MAKES "EVERY LAWN AN AIRPORT"—A New Jersey manufacturer has produced this light plane, designed for house-to-house travel and "able to land on any good-sized lawn." Called the Poraplane, the craft has gull-like wings which scoop in the air to allow for steep descent and extra-slow landing. Overhead, the plane has the appearance of a big bat.

HAVING A RAFT OF FUN—Nineteen-year-old Mark Strider sets out from Dayton, Ky., bound for New Orleans, La., on a home-made raft. The modern Huck Finn doesn't even have a map to show him the way, but says, "Somebody told me it's 1236 miles to New Orleans, and I just like to travel."

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr.

New York, Oct. 7 — (AP) — Sounds that past in the night: Two of the hottest rumors around World Series headquarters are that Terry Moore will become manager of the Red Sox and Buffalo's Paul Richards will be named pilot of the White Sox.

Warren Giles, Cincinnati general manager insists he hasn't made up his mind about a new manager, but he gives every indication it will be someone with plenty of managerial experience.

And the signs point toward Jack Onslow remaining with Chicago even though Frank Lane may come out if they follow form.

This is how the games should be played. Saturday, too.

Michigan over Army: Michigan will get revenge for the war-time lickings by the young generals and extend its victory streak to 26 in a row.

Notre Dame over Purdue: The Irish, also owners of an unbeaten string, appear to be about four touchdowns better than the Big Ten Boilermakers.

Kentucky over Georgia: It is Kentucky's homecoming and Coach Dan Bryant will have his Wildcats fired up to protect their unbeaten status.

Ohio State over Southern California: No coast team has defeated a top flight midwestern eleven since the war and there is no indication that the Buckeyes will lose.

Oklahoma over Texas: Darrell Royal is Oklahoma's passing quarterback and the Texas wall sullenly a Royal flush trying to keep up with him.

Duke over Navy: A year ago the Duke freshman team was crushed by the Navy players. These players are sophomores now and the Dixie lancers will get their revenge.

Stanford over UCLA: Stanford appears a touchdown the stronger, Minnesota over Northwestern: Minnesota fans will be singing "Billy Boy" in honor of Billy Byrne.

Yale over Columbia: Columbia appears too green.

North Carolina over South Carolina: North Carolina was the two governors of those two states said to each other.

Skipping over others in a hurry: Friday: Alabama over Tennessee, San Francisco over Detroit, Villanova over St. Mary's, Drake over South Dakota and Denver over Hawaii.

Saturday: East: Cornell over Harvard, Pennsylvania over Princeton, Pittsburgh over West Virginia and Penn State over Boston College.

Midwest: California over Wisconsin, Iowa over Illinois, Missouri over Oklahoma, Texas A & M over Texas Christian, Indiana over Michigan State, Maryland over Kansas State, Nebraska over Nebraska, Kansas over George Washington, Wichita over Bradley and Marquette over St. Louis.

Southwest and Far West: Iowa State over Colorado, Texas Tech over Tulsa, Arkansas over Baylor, Oregon over Washington State, Washington over Oregon State and Rice over New Mexico State.

Tulane over Southeast Louisiana, Louisiana State over Texas A & M, Vanderbilt over Mississippi and Tennessee over Chattanooga.

Piggies Too Much for Kittens 26-0

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

Texarkana's Piggies completely outplayed the Junior Bobkittens here last night to rack up a lopsided 26-0 behind the outstanding play of Halter, big visiting fullback.

The visitors scored in each quarter with Mason, on a double reverse, going across from 11 yards out in the initial tally. In the second period the Piggies man took a Hope punt and streaked 40 yards to score. Halter added an extra point.

During the halftime the excellent Junior High school band gave a fine performance.

Opening the third period the Kittens made their strongest bid for a score only to be stopped by a pass interception. Texarkana took over and marched for a third tally with Halter plunging across and kicking.

Again in the third period Halter bowed across ending the scoring at 26-0.

The visitors, who boast one of the largest junior teams ever seen here, made 10 first downs to Hope's 4. Their only pass was incomplete while Hope threw 2, one incomplete and the other intercepted.

Rain May Slow Hope-Malvern Game Tonight

Tonight the Bobcats journey to Malvern for a non-loop game with the strong Leopards in a contest that test the Bobcats as to District 7-AA strength.

Malvern was eked by the strong Camden Panthers, district favorites, 12-12 a couple of weeks ago. So the outcome should be a fairly good indication of whether the Bobcats will have a chance in conference play this season.

A fast game was dimmed somewhat today by a steady drizzle which might turn the field into a muddy mess. Too the rain will probably keep many of the local fans at home, clinging to their radios.

Hope is in good condition and after last week's listless showing are expected to spark up a bit. Malvern, drubbed also by Conway last week, will be looking for a score over Morrilton last week.

The game starts at 8 p.m. and will be broadcast over local station KXAR.

Quachita, State Top Game in AIC Loop

Little Rock, Oct. 7 — (AP) — Quachita and Arkansas State square off in Jonesboro tomorrow to top the AIC football calendar this week.

Quachita, with three wins and one loss record, will be looking for a third straight conference victory.

Arkansas State, which meets only two AIC teams this season, is after a win number one State dropped two touchies by slim margins and have out-rushed and out-gained both opponents only to wind up on the short end of the final score.

Arkansas Tech plays Magnolia A. and M. in Magnolia in a key conference contest.

Tech, defending its fourth straight loop crown, must take the Mule-riders to keep up with pace-setting Henderson and Quachita.

Henderson enters its Hendrix in Arkadelphia and Arkansas college goes to Conway to meet State Teachers.

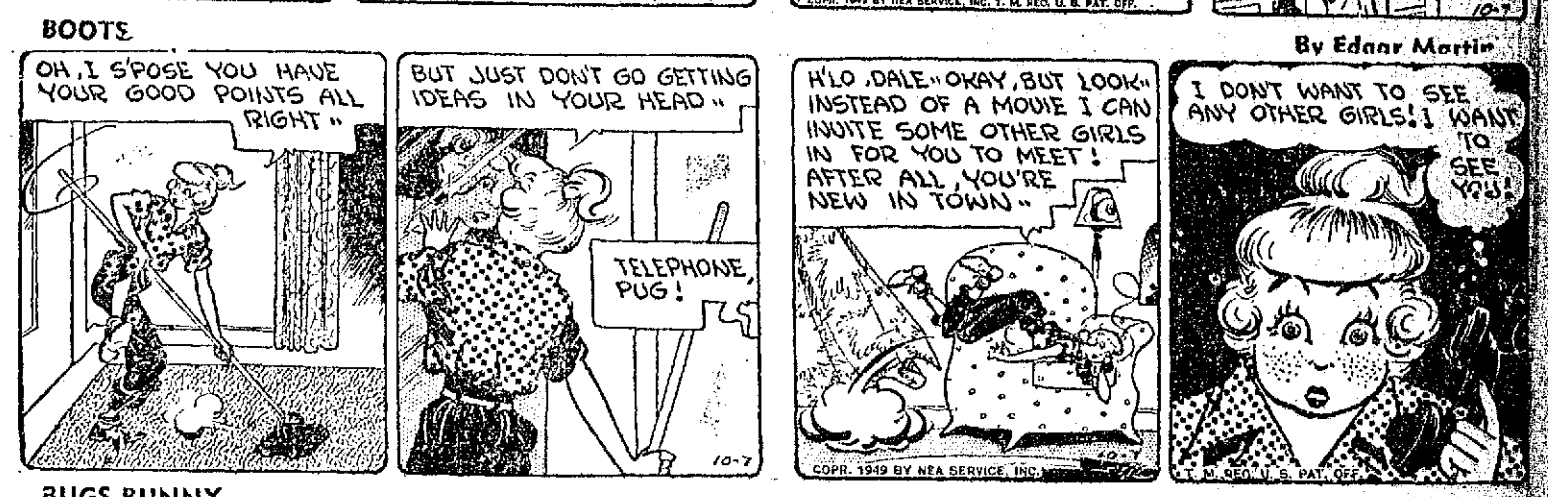

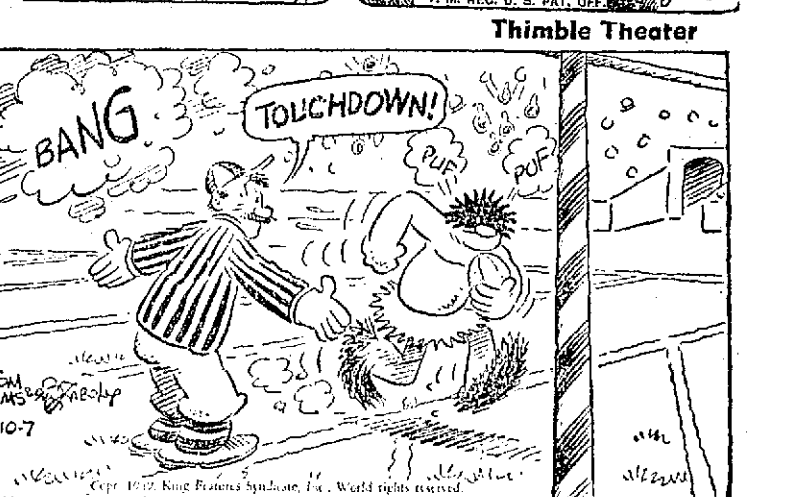

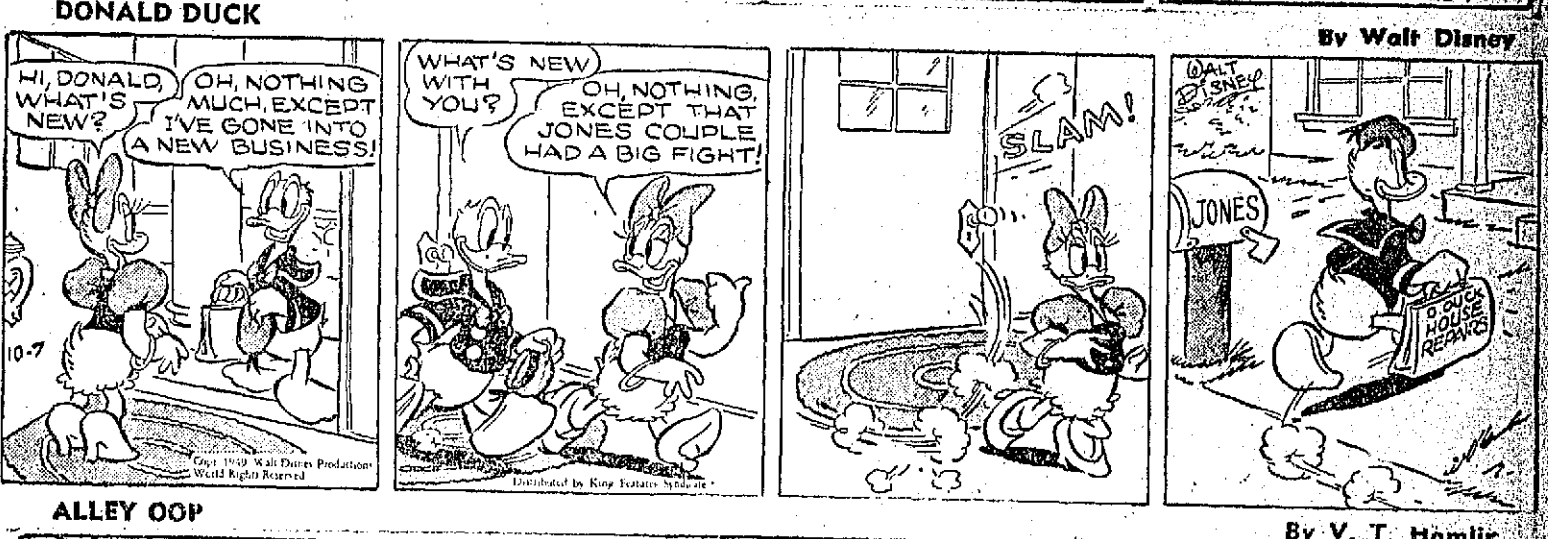

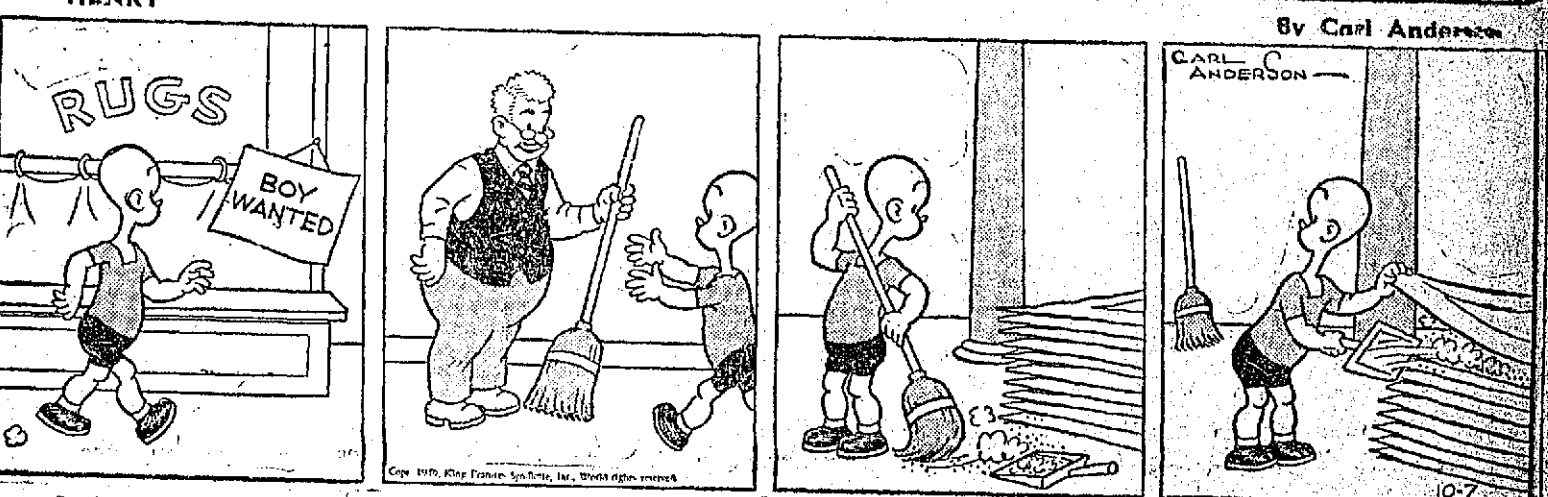

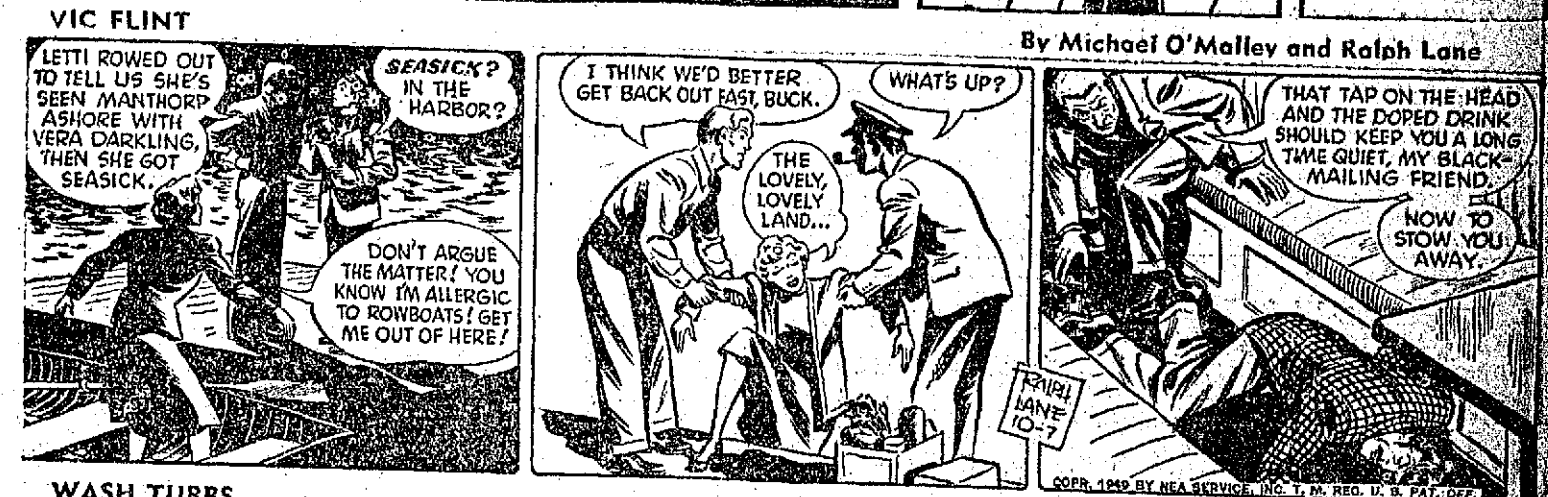

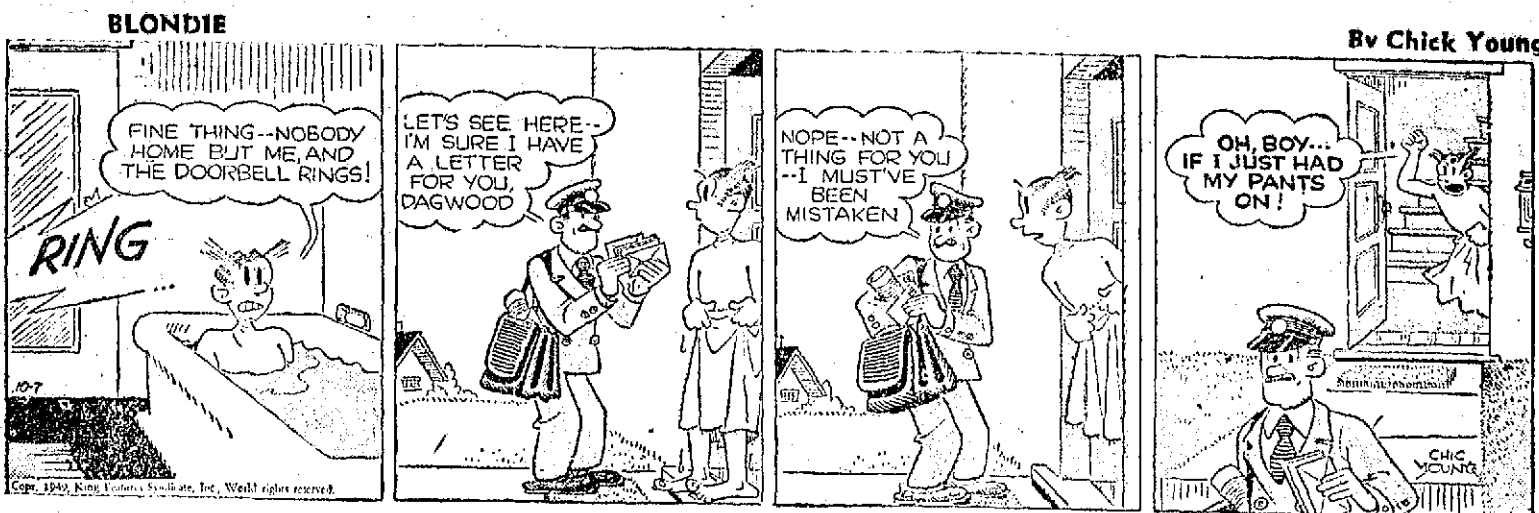

In other games this week Arkansas Tech plays Austin-Peay college (Tenn.) in Pine Bluff and Little Rock Junior college goes to Alabama to play St. Bernard college.

Legion Head Warns of Too Many Demands

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 7 —(AP)—The national commander of the American Legion warned today there are too many demands for increased government services, which may lead to a "welfare state."

His warning came in a speech prepared for delivery at the National AFL convention, which only yesterday went down the line again for a broadened federal social security law, federal aid for housing, and President Truman's health insurance plan.

"There is a growing disposition on the part of more and more of our people to surrender their rights and freedoms, bit by bit, in return for government guarantees of their present and future security," George N. Craig, the Legion's top spokesman, said.

"The American Legion wants a state of welfare in America but not a welfare state," Craig declared. He defined a "welfare state" as one which "accepts fully responsibility for economic needs of its citizens."

Craig said the Legion is one hundred per cent behind a "growing social movement to take the terrors of helplessness dependence out of old age. But," he added, "we do not believe that social security should be primarily and exclusively a government responsibility."

"It is the able-bodied, free American citizen's own responsibility to assure his economic security through his own hard work, thrift and enterprise," Craig said.

Yesterday AFL President William Green hailed house approval of an expanded social security system, calling it "the outstanding legislative victory for labor during the current session of congress."

In an apparent reference to the Taft-Hartley law, Craig said that "understanding (by labor and management) of the mutual problems — not laws — brings mutual agreement."

"In the striving for security by all of our people, the American Legion believes that it should be achieved insofar as possible by a contract between free labor and free management, rather than by compulsory government action or by legislation," the Legion leader said.

Present SS System to Be Unchanged

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Oct. 7 —(AP)—Do you ever wonder what happens to the social security tax you pay into the old-age pension plan?

There are arguments over how that tax money is handled. But there is no sign that the present system will be changed.

The arguments will be outlined briefly here. But, first, here is the background.

If you're covered by the pension plan, you and your boss each pay yearly one per cent of your salary up to the first $3,000.

That's a total of two per cent you and your boss pay. The government now is collecting yearly about $1,800,000,000 that way.

Out of that, it's paying yearly in pensions and other benefits about $700,000,000, leaving a yearly reserve of around $1,100,000,000.

Since 1947, when it first started collecting this tax, the social security system has built up a reserve of about $1,700,000,000.

The money doesn't lie idle. Congress said it should be invested in government bonds, which now pay around 2-1/8 per cent interest.

So the social security reserve fund, invested in those government bonds, is earning money. So much for that for a moment.

The government has a debt of $5,000,070,000. It got into that debt mainly in the war and depression days.

That's when the cost of running the government far exceeded the money it was able to collect, mostly in income and corporation taxes.

So, as it got further and further into debt and needed extra money to keep going, it borrowed money. It did the borrowing by selling bonds to banks, life insurance companies, you and me, and to the social security reserve fund.

On all the bonds it sold, of course, including bonds sold to the social security reserve fund, the government must pay interest.

So the government has a double job in handling that debt: To pay off some of the debt while at the same time paying interest on it.

Rural Telephone Extension Is Discussed

Washington, Oct. 8 —(AP)—Only adjustment of house and senate differences is needed now to complete congressional action on a bill to extend rural telephone service with government loans.

The senate late yesterday passed, with several amendments, a house bill permitting the rural electrification administration to make loans at 2 per cent interest for the expansion of telephone service in rural areas.

Rural telephone service and cooperative, non-profit, limited dividend and mutual associations would receive preference on loan applications.

The senate amended the bill to provide that for one year instead of six months, after the effective date of the act, loan applications shall be accepted only from existing rural telephone systems.

Under the senate bill, loans could be made only to telephone systems which have no more than 2,500 rural subscribers. The house set no limit.

Representatives of the house and senate bill will now go to work to iron out differences and submit an agreed upon bill for final congressional approval.

of investment." And it has received the blessing of a special committee of educators, businessmen, social workers and political scientists headed by Edward R. Stettinius, former secretary of state.

This committee — called the advisory council on social security — was appointed by the senate finance committee to study social security problems. In its report it said in part:

"The investment of the old-age insurance funds in government securities does not mean that people have been or will be taxed twice for the same benefits, as has been charged.

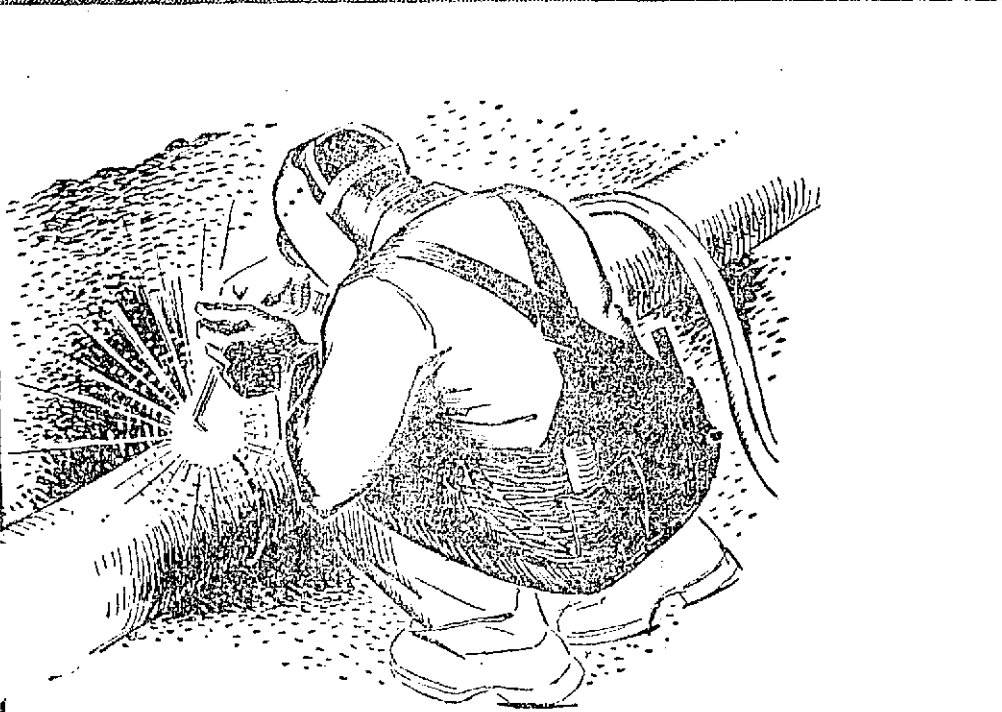

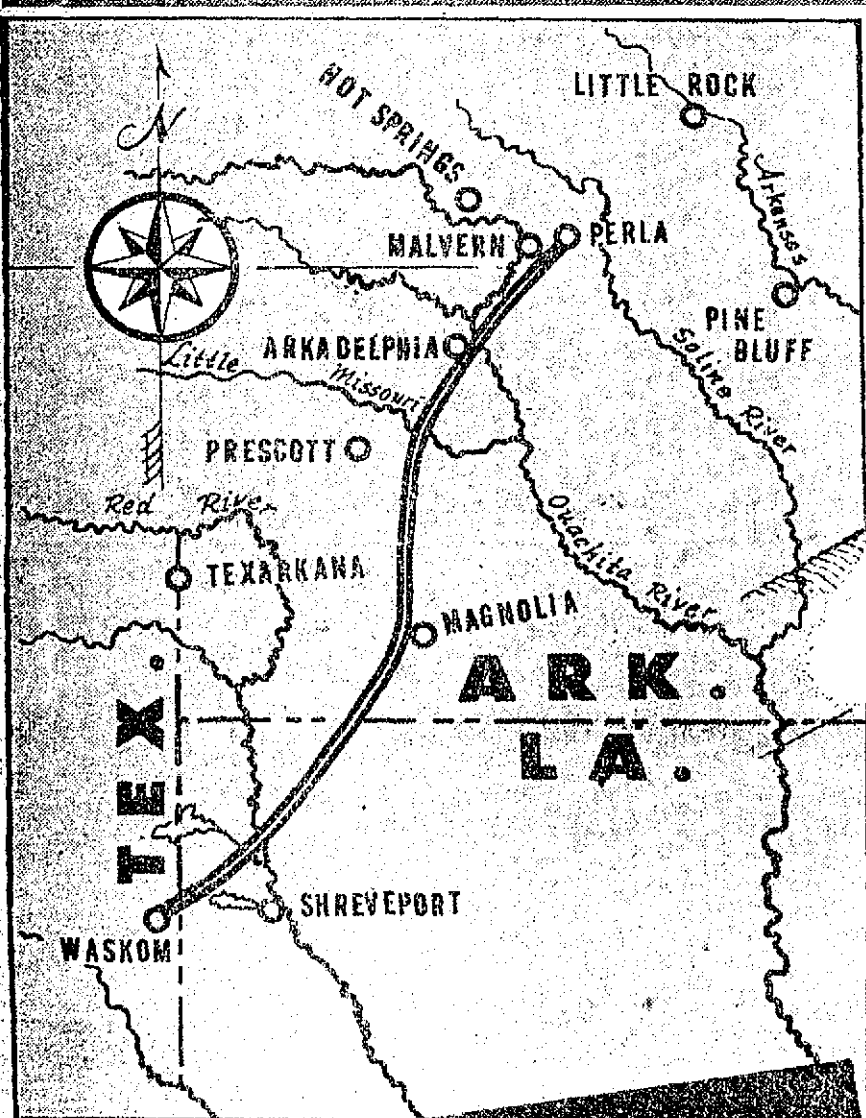

Wonderful. I can't wait to see it!

Progress Report TO PRESENT AND FUTURE CUSTOMERS OF THE ARKANSAS LOUISIANA GAS COMPANY

Five Years of Intensive Planning and Exploration Preceded the Laying of This 20 Inch Pipe Line

BEFORE THE NEXT COLD SIEGE — home owners and industry served by this new line in Arkansas will be enjoying its benefits. To speed construction, three contractors have been employed — instead of one as is ordinarily the practice — and pipe is now being laid simultaneously in three sections along the line.

Work on this line from Waskom, Texas, to Perla, Arkansas, began immediately following approval granted September 15, 1949 by the Federal Power Commission. Thus unfolds another progressive step of expansion climaxing five years of prospecting for gas wells, making leases, drilling wells (some of which turn out to be dry), connecting these producing wells with established pipe lines and inaugurating service.

Barring contingencies beyond control of the Arkansas Louisiana Gas Company, this last step of inaugurating service will be taken before severe winter weather strikes.

1,100 CARLOADS OF STEEL PIPE BEING USED IN THIS $8,000,000 EXPANSION PROJECT

Planning five years ahead to keep pace of industrial and home expansion in Arkansas demands extensive coordination — and involves large investments. This particular newest project calls for 163 miles of 20-inch steel pipe and is requiring approximately 22 trainloads of 50 cars each to make complete on-the-job delivery.

Although this expansion program is extensive and costly, it is but a small part of the present 2,000 miles of transmission lines in the comprehensive system which has taken more than a quarter century to build. Backed by such extensive resources, present customers can rest assured of abundant gas service now; future customers, likewise, can look with confidence to the Arkansas Louisiana Gas Company for vital services of natural gas so important in sound economic expansion.

The above pictures illustrate typical pipe line construction methods on the Arkansas Louisiana Gas Company's comprehensive system.
